Newsletter Suggestion

I have received an email today from Roly and Christine Kemp expressing the fact that Allaranews is currently the only method of keeping in touch with our members, but that not everyone has access to the internet. They suggest that those who are on line, print off a few copies to distribute to fellow members who are missing out. I think this is an excellent idea so I would ask you to put this into action if you can please.

Fancy That!

If women ruled the world there would be no wars. Instead, there would just a bunch of angry countries not talking to each other.

This year has seen the coldest winter since records began for countries in the northern hemisphere. It's been so cold that numerous politicians have actually been seen with their hands in their own pockets.

The health service in this country is a disgrace. My doctor told me to run 3 miles a day for a month. I'm now completely lost and 90 miles away from home

.Just read in the newspaper that lots of Americans have been sending their old clothes to the poor in Africa. Waste of time in my opinion. I've never seen an African with a 52 inch waist.

What's the difference between an actor and a politician? An actor has better script writers with more believable story-lines.

The following text messages were exchanged on a cold winters day in December.

Wife: "Windows frozen."

Husband: "Pour some warm water over them."

Wife: "Computer completely screwed up now."

Aphorisms

The trouble with bucket seats is that nobody has the same size bucket.

Do you realise that in about 40 years time we'll have thousands of old ladies running around in tattoos (and Rap music will be the Golden Oldies)

Money can't buy happiness.... but somehow it's more comfortable to cry in a Rolls Royce than a Yugo

Always be yourself because people that matter don't mind and the ones that mind don't matter.

Life isn't tied with a bow.... but it's still a gift

Boots

Did you hear about the teacher who was helping one of her kindergarten students put on his boots? He asked her to help and she could see why. Even with her pulling and him pushing the little boots still didn't want to go on. By the time they had got the second boot on she had worked up a sweat. She almost cried when the little boy said, "Teacher, they're on the wrong feet!" She looked and sure enough they were. It wasn't any easier pulling the boots off than it was pulling them on. She managed to keep her cool and together they worked to get the boots back on, this time on the right feet. He then announced "These aren't my boots" She bit her tongue rather than scream "Why didn't you say so?" like she wanted to. Once again she struggled to help him pull the ill fitting boots off his little feet. No sooner had they got the boots off when he said "They're my brothers boots. My mum made me wear them"

Now she didn't know whether she should laugh or cry. But she mustered up what grace and courage she had left to wrestle the boots on his feet once again. Helping him on with his coat she asked "Now where are your mittens?"

He said "I stuffed 'em in the toes of my boots." She will be eligible for parole in three years time!

Who Am I?

I am mostly non-union, which makes me a traitor to the working class and an ally of big business.

I was christened by my parents, which now labels me an infidel.

I am retired, which makes me useless.

I think and I reason, therefore I doubt much that the mainstream media tells me, which must make me a reactionary.

I am proud of my heritage, which makes me a xenophobe.

I value my safety and that of my family and I appreciate the police and the legal system, which makes me a right wing extremist.

I believe in hard work, fair play, and fair compensation according to each individual's merits, which today makes me an anti-socialist.

I (and most of the folks I know), acquired a fair education without student loan debts and little or no debt, which makes me some kind of an odd underachiever.

I believe in the defence and protection of my country and I honour those who served in the Armed Forces, which now makes me a right wing militant.

Please help me come to terms with the new me....because I'm just not sure who the hell I am anymore!

Funny... It's just taken place over the last 10 to 15 years!

As if this wasn't enough to deal with...now I'm not even sure which toilet to go into!

Driving The Point Home

A teenage boy had just got his driver's licence and asked his father when he could use the car. His father said he'd make a deal with his son "You bring your grades up from a C to a B average, study your Bible a little, and get your hair cut. Then we'll talk about the car." The boy thought about that for a moment, decided he'd settle for the offer, and they agreed on it.

After about six weeks his father said "Son, you've brought your grades up and I've seen you have been studying your Bible, but I'm disappointed you haven't got your hair cut"

The boy said "You know, Dad, I've been thinking about that, and I've noticed in my studies of the Bible that Samson had long hair, John the Baptist had long hair, Moses had long hair...and there's even strong evidence that Jesus had long hair!"

To this his father replied, "Did you notice they all walked everywhere they went?"

Ageism's

Never in my wildest dreams think that I'd ever go into a bank wearing a mask and ask for money!

As you get older three things happen. The first is your memory goes, and I can't remember the other two...

There is only one cure for grey. It was invented by a Frenchman. It is called the guillotine.

We spend our lives on the run: we get up by the clock, eat and sleep by the clock, get up again, go to work - and then we retire. And what do they give us? A blasted clock!

The say that age is all in your mind. The trick is keeping it from creeping down into your body.

You know that you are getting old when everything hurts. And what doesn't hurt doesn't work.

Advanced old age is when you sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going.

You don't know real embarrassment until your metal hip sets off a metal detector.

I am getting to an age when I can only enjoy the last sport left. It is called hunting for your spectacles.

The older a man gets, the farther he had to walk to school as a boy.

Grandchildren don't make a man feel old; it's the knowledge that he's married to a grandmother.
